Pressure Injuries – The Whole Story

WHAT ARE THEY?

Pressure injuries result from extended pressure interrupting blood flow to the skin, causing problems ranging from discoloration, loss of sensation and scarring to full-fledged skin loss and soft tissue damage.

HOW DO THEY OCCUR?

They can result from pressure alone or the combination of pressure and friction or shearing.

WHO IS AT RISK?

HOW CAN THEY BE PREVENTED?

Pressure injuries are easier to prevent than to heal:

- Using pressure redistribution devices to alleviate pressure from key points
- Checking skin daily for discoloration
- In most cases, ensuring the head of the bed is raised no more than 30° and for short periods, if possible
